NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The on President Archbishop Makarios Union has injected itself into the Cyprus crisis Khrushchev took up the Cyprus by warning the United States issue in Moscow Friday, and Britain to keep their hands off the strife-torn island. Khrushchev said the Soviet Union would support a proposed North Atlantic Treaty Organization peace force as "an armed invasion."

New Regime In S. Viet Nam

Military Strongman
Khanh Names Self
As the New Premier

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, South Viet Nam's 36-year-old strong man, announced the formation of a new government today with himself as premier.

Dapper in paratrooper's fatigues, Khanh read the list of Cabinet officers from the steps of his office building and vowed to "bring forth all our strength to repel Communist aggression, to bring security to our people, especially those in the countryside."

Khanh named the popular Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh as chief of state, Minh, leader of the deposed military junta, is expected to have only nominal power.

Minh will live in Saigon's Gia Long Palace, formerly occupied by the late President Ngo Dinh Diem. Minh, who led the coalition of generals that ousted the Diem regime last Nov. 1, was overthrown by Khanh's swift, bloodless coup on Jan. 30.

While a crowd of politicians, diplomats and newsmen listened in a parking lot below, Khanh disclosed his list of three deputy premiers, five ministers and 10 secretaries of state.

Explaining what he called the new government's historic mission to save the country, Khanh said: "Every act aimed at sowing disunity and act of sabotage beneficial to the Communists, and neutralists will constitute a crime against the people of the motherland."

77 to 21 Vote in Senate Passes Tax Reduction Bill

Civil Rights Battle Nearing Vote in House

Southern Opponents Overwhelmed by Northern Coalition

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House civil-rights fight reaches its climax today with a bipartisan drive to write a fair employment practices provision into the bill.

Southern opponents, who have been overwhelmed by a coalition of Republicans and Northern Democrats on every other section, hope to gain enough support to kill the employment provision.

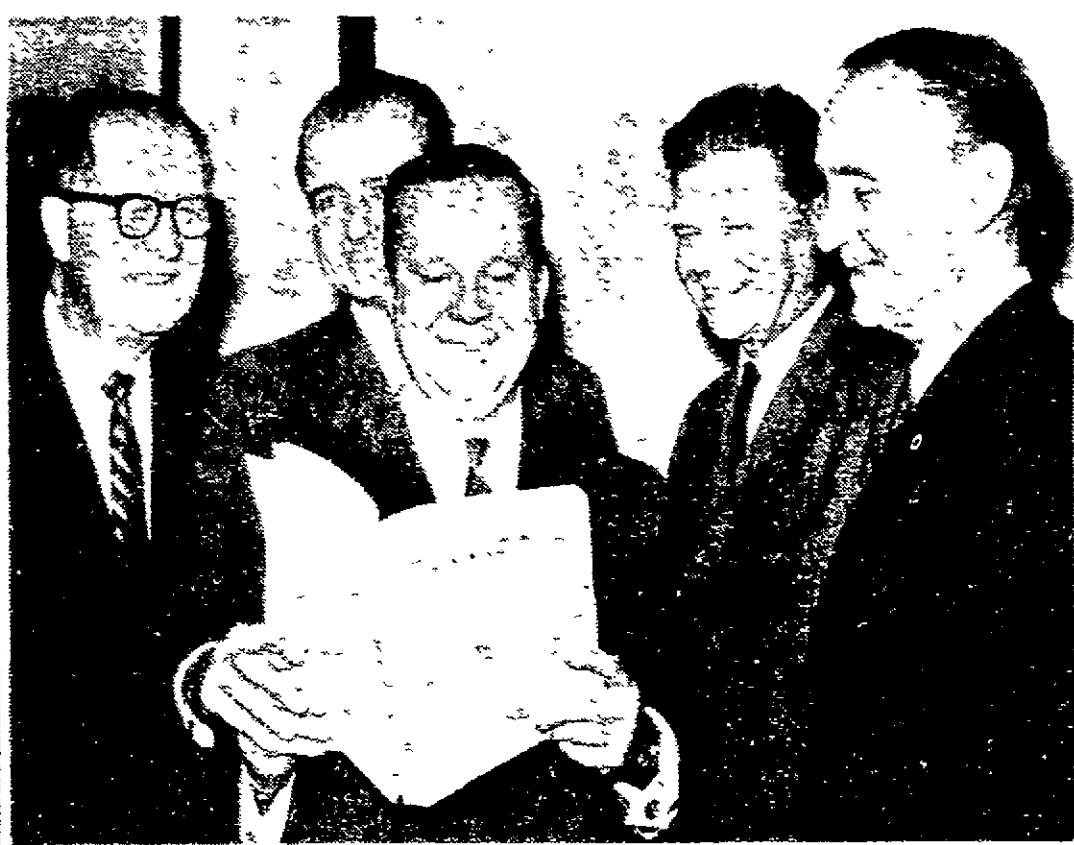

House leaders want to finish action on the provision and three other minor ones and put the entire bill to a final vote tonight.

Limited Debate But Southern opponents would limit debate in order to meet the deadline, thus leaving the possibility that a final vote wouldn't come until Monday.

The controversial provision would create a federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission empowered to investigate complaints of racial discrimination in hiring, firing and promotion practices among businesses and labor unions.

The commission would have to go into court and win its case to get enforcement of its orders. Standing on its own, such legislation has fared poorly in the House for years. Fair employment practices bills die regularly in committee without ever reaching the floor.

But under the drive for strong civil rights legislation touched off last summer by the widespread demonstrations by Negroes, the House Judiciary Committee included the provision in its 10-part package. Now it is asking the House to keep it in.

Democratic Leaders in Congress Fix Feb. 19 As Goal for Final Action

BY JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders, spurred on by President Johnson, today fixed Feb. 19 or 20 as the goal for final action on the largest tax cut in U.S. history.

The benefits, including more dollars in take-home pay, would begin about the first of March.

The Senate passed its $11.6-billion version of the legislation Friday, 77 to 21, well ahead of the original Feb. 11 deadline, fixed by its leaders.

Even before the final vote, Johnson was conferring with his Capitol Hill lieutenants about Tuesday next week since Republicans will be leaving town for Lincoln Day speeches.

But he said the explanation of what changes the Senate made in the $11.1-billion version passed by the House would be covered in those two days, so that voting can start when the conference reconvenes on Feb. 17.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., another conferee, said that under this schedule the Senate-House group should be able to come up with compromise bill by Feb. 18 or 19. A final vote could come one day later.

Benefits March If this schedule is met, the benefits of the bill should start flowing about March 1. The Senate version provides that the reduction in wage and salary

Tax Vote Finds Proxmire, Nelson On Opposite Sides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wisconsin Democratic senator Gaylord Nelson voted with the majority Friday as the Senate passed the $11.6 billion tax cut bill.

Wisconsin's other Democratic senator, William Proxmire, voted against the slash.

Earlier, the Senate defeated an amendment by Proxmire aimed at reducing from 10 percent to 3 percent the excise tax paid by patrons of cabarets and roof gardens. He claimed the amendment would provide from 20,000 to 30,000 additional jobs for musicians and others.

Proxmire and Nelson voted with the minority as the Senate rejected an amendment to the bill seeking to wipe out present tax option benefits for corporation executives.

speeding up plans for the Senate-House conference to reconcile the differences between the two chambers' versions.

Conference Monday Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who heads the Senate delegation, told a reporter it was decided to begin the conference next Monday instead of Feb. 17, as planned earlier.

He said that the conference could meet only on Monday and

Johnson Made Up Mind Early On Cuba Threat

President, Aides Unsuccessful in Uncovering Motive

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and his advisers made up their minds early on how to meet Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's latest challenge. Then they tried unsuccessfully to uncover a motive.

White House sources indicated today that the decision to try to make Guantanamo naval base self-sufficient in terms of water and manpower was made Friday morning.

Conferees held during the afternoon prior to public announcement of this policy, the sources said, were devoted largely to an examination of Cuban motives and a study of long-range prospects.

The decision was based on various alternatives drafted months ago in expectation of such trouble. It was released at an early evening press briefing.

Soviet Prompting Johnson and the other conferees were known to have wondered aloud whether Castro, perhaps with Soviet prompting, was trying to test the new American president. They also considered the possibility that Cuba wanted to add to the hemisphere burdens of the United States, already saddled with trouble in Panama.

The President and his top military, diplomatic and intelligence advisers have yet to figure out exactly what was behind the Cuban decision to cut off the flow of water to the important naval base.

The Guantanamo situation continued to claim some of the President's attention today as he watched for any Cuban response to the self-sufficiency moves. He kept in touch with Washington officials by telephone and government teletype.

Johnson flew to his ranch home Friday night to spend the weekend before going to Austin, 66 miles away, to attend Sunday funeral services for Mrs. Jesse C. Kellam, wife of the manager of the Johnson television and radio stations.

U.S. Wants Allied Economic Noose to Surround Castro

Johnson Orders Guantanamo Completely Severed From Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is appealing to Allied governments to join in tightening an economic noose around Cuba following President Johnson's decision to sever the Guantanamo naval base completely from the Cuban economy and water supply.

Johnson in effect told Cuba to keep its water.

The presidential decision was announced by the State Department Friday night after a day-long series of conferences on how the United States should react to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's action Thursday in cutting the fresh water supply to the naval base.

At the same time a White House statement warned of the dangers of "further provocations by Castro" and declared that the prospects "should be carefully weighed by all nations."

Prod to the Kremlin This was taken to include a prod to the Kremlin to consider where Soviet support of the Cuban regime may be leading.

"The reckless and irresponsible conduct of the Cuban government remains a constant threat to the peace of this hemisphere," the White House said.

It added that "these matters" will be discussed with other Western Hemisphere nations in the Organization of American States and with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies.

Shortly before the White House announcement that Guantanamo would be made self-sufficient in water supplies, Secretary of State Dean Rusk pictured Castro as probably undertaking a concerted campaign to force the United States to abandon the big naval base on Cuba's eastern end.

"The basic fact is," Rusk told a news conference, "that we are in Guantanamo and will remain there for the foreseeable future."

Premeditated Campaign Later Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos issued a statement on Havana radio to, he said, "rebut Rusk's declaration that 'we are making a premeditated campaign to expel the United States from Guantanamo.'"

"We will claim the base in the moment we consider convenient and will use the ways of international law," he said.

Senate Prober Believes Story Told by Reynolds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate committee investigating Robert G. Baker's activities expressed confidence today in the testimony of Don B. Reynolds, a business associate of Baker.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., told a reporter he saw "no reason to disbelieve" the documented testimony by Reynolds.

Jordan heads the Senate Rules Committee, which is looking for possible conflict of interest between Baker's business activities and his duties as secretary to Senate Democrats, a post he resigned under fire last Oct. 7.

Reynolds had produced canceled checks and invoices to back up his testimony that he gave President Johnson — then a senator — a stereo record player that cost more than $500 after he sold $100,000 in life insurance to Johnson.

Beckwith's Attorneys Plan Legal Fight to Get Bond for Client

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Defense lawyers prepared today for a legal fight to free Byron De La Beckwith on bond pending a new trial on a charge of murder.

Beckwith, 43, a segregationist, had confidently expected to stroll the streets of his hometown, Greenwood, this weekend. Instead he was still in a cell, astonished by a mistrial.

The all-white jury in the 12-day-old Circuit Court trial was dismissed Friday after reporting itself deadlocked. It had deliberated 11 hours.

Cultural Exchange Program?

Teen-Agers Shreik, Scream as British 'Beatles' Arrive in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Beatles, Britain's rock 'n' rollers, with the haystack hairdos, blew up a teen-age storm by arriving here.

At Kennedy Airport Friday, about 3,000 delirious, shrieking, hooky-playing youngsters, many of them carrying Beatles banners, strained against police barricades to welcome the singing, guitar-strumming quartet.

It was mostly girls, girls, girls.

"I love them, I love them," cried one.

"They're so cute!" said another.

"Frustrations" "Their singing tears me apart and lets out all frustrations," sighed a Brooklyn girl.

Pelted by jelly beans and candy kisses, all loving every bit of it, were Beatles Paul McCartney, 21; George Harrison, 21; Ringo Starr, 23, and John Lennon, 23. Lennon's pretty blonde wife, Cynthia, accompanied the group but stayed well in the background.

The Beatles, their records best sellers for months, were almost an American institution before they got here. Already on sale are Beatles wigs, boots, T-shirts, sweatshirts, toss pillows and scarves. In Britain, 20,000 rag-mop wigs have been sold.

The adulation of the Beatles is reminiscent of the grip Frank Sinatra had on teen-agers some years ago and, more recently, of Elvis Presley.

But when a newsman described them as "four Elvis

Presleys" the foursome shouted they're staying. There was a screaming crowd waiting there, the Beatles began their debut in a Liverpool jazz cellar 15 months ago for about $20 a week. They now command $10,000 a performance and are reputed to have earned $17 million.

Zooming into Manhattan, each in his own limousine, the Beatles created consternation at the old Plaza Hotel, where they

Something's in the Wind Spring Really Sprung? Ask Old Man Winter

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Yes sir, time is running out on 'Ol Man Winter.

It's wonderful, the feeling he only has a few weeks left to throw his Sunday punch.

Or is it?

The optimists (aren't we all at times) say it's in the air spring has sprung!

Others with a more rational approach caution not to sell the old gent short — we're liable to get clobbered any day now.

Signs of spring? There have been some indicators, to wit:

Young gals in Bermuda shorts playing tennis at Erb Park earlier in the week.

The kids refusing to wear boots to school.

Roller skating is back in style in some neighborhoods.

A four-year-old named "Mike" decides its digging time and presents mom with a surprise — her tulip bulbs.

Eager — beavers with the "goofing bug" have been sneaking onto the municipal golf course to the chagrin of park department officials, who warn that jumping the gun on the season will ruin the turf.

The mild winter (temperatures were in the 40's again this week) has been a source of mixed emotions.

Outagamie Chapter of Cancer Society Pushes Education Campaign

A "Tell Your Neighbor" campaign for increased family education regarding cancer is the current effort of the Outagamie County chapter of American Cancer Society.

A leaflet being distributed free by volunteers is titled "The Answers to These Questions May Help Save Your Life."

The leaflet aims at answering the question, "What signs or symptoms may mean cancer?" and lists seven danger signals.

These are unusual bleeding or discharge, a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere, a sore that does not heal, change in bowel or bladder habits, hoarseness or cough, indigestion or difficulty in swallowing and change in a wart or mole.

H. E. Daniels, Journal Official, Dead at 61

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Harold E. Daniels, 61, advertising director and a vice president of the Journal Co., died Thursday night after becoming ill at his home.

Daniels, who had been in apparent good health, was rushed by ambulance to a hospital but was pronounced dead. Cause of death was listed as an apparent heart attack.

He had recently announced plans to retire July 1.

Daniels, a native of New York City and a 1924 graduate of the University of Wisconsin, joined the Milwaukee Journal in 1926 after working for the Capital Times in Madison. He became retail advertising manager in 1936 and manager of advertising sales in 1955. He was appointed advertising manager in 1959.

The Journal Co. publishes the morning Milwaukee Sentinel in addition to the afternoon Journal and operates stations WTMJ and WTMJ-TV.

Survivors include Daniels' widow, Grace, and two children.

Give Counseling To Kaukauna High Students

KAUKAUNA — Some 110 Kaukauna High School college-bound seniors are being counseled to help them plan for the future.

Fire Destroys Pigs, Barn at Forest Junction

Granary, Feed, Equipment Lost In Farm Blaze

FOREST JUNCTION — A fire of undetermined origin, discovered by a passerby at 1:15 a.m. today, destroyed a 42 by 64-foot barn and an adjoining 16 by 20-foot granary on the Jerome Gehl farm route 1, Brillion. The farm is located two miles northwest of Forest Junction.

The Hollandtown Fire Department answered the call. Gehl, who is employed at a Kaukauna paper mill working on the night shift was not at home when the fire was discovered.

Seventy-five pigs valued at about $1,600 perished in the flames. Twenty pigs were saved.

Also destroyed was baled hay and straw, machinery, including a feeder rack, wagons, a blower and a harrow, stored in the barn loft. Some 700 bushels of oats were destroyed along with the granary.

The fire is believed to have originated at the west end of the building where pump equipment is located.

A favorable wind prevented flames from spreading to the nearby farm home. The farm is owned by Joseph Gehl.

Damages have been estimated at about $10,000.

AHS Juniors Tested In History Classes On Current Events

Juniors in the American history classes of Miss Elizabeth Plowright, Appleton High School, were tested on their understanding of current world news events. Both the "Time" and "Newsweek" tests in current events were taken.

Deborah Baker earned the highest score in the "Time" test, tallying 91 out of 105 possible points. For this accomplishment she will be awarded a "Certificate of Excellence" and the choice of a book or a globe.

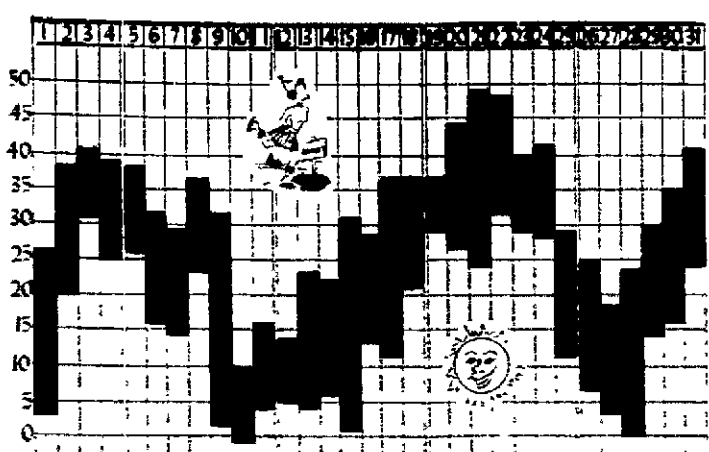

Placing second was John Forbes with a score of 89, also earning a "Certificate of Merit." Other students receiving the same award are Douglas Demlow, Paula Doctor and Bonnie Steckbar. Recognition for fine work was given to David Stringham, Richard Plant and Tony Haberlein.

The "Newsweek" test had 100 possible points. Bruce Witter achieved the highest score with 85. Wayne Reffke, Peter Llewellyn and Ward Meythaler were commended for scores of 80 or more.

Portugal Fights Jungle War in African Colony

CONAKRY, Guinea (AP)—In the swamps and jungles of Portuguese Guinea, African nation-general secretary and in effect allies are waging a stubborn, little-publicized guerrilla war. Their aim is to win independence for Portugal's West African colony, squeezed between Conakry in 1961 to organize the Senegal and the independent Guinea Republic.

The action is directed from a palm-shaded wooden house on the outskirts of Conakry that doesn't even have a telephone. The extent of the action has never been fully evaluated despite efforts of diplomats and newsmen.

Head of Chicago Firm To Talk to Management Society in Menasha

War communiques of the African Party for Independence of Portuguese Guinea speak of 1,000 Portuguese soldiers killed and wounded since the "direct action" started Aug. 3, 1961. Officials of the party say their "guerrilleros" have shot down 15 Portuguese planes, and that an area south of the rivers Gebe and Corubal has been brought under guerrilla control.

They show pictures of smashed Portuguese planes surrounded by grinning Africans clutching Soviet-made submachine guns.

In his talk, he cites 15 trends of Soviet ships or probable changes in distribution of arms and ammunition for the Portuguese Guinea fighters.

Primary product of the firm is folding seats for gymnasiums, schools and other institutions.

UW Regents Get Request From Reynolds

Governor Wants Legality Study for Industry Inducement

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Anniversity of Wisconsin regents received a request from the governor Thursday to approve a study of the legality of state and tax inducements for private industry. In a message to the board, Gov. John W. Reynolds asked the regents to provide faculty cost $2.3 million, to be amortized over the project. Cost tized with student fees. The fa- of the study was estimated at $11,557. The Department of Re- source Development would con- tribute $7,758 and the university, $3,339. Prof. Benjamin Bridges would in memory of John F. Kennedy, supervise the study and Prof. Harold M. Groves would serve as consultant. Both are with the department of economics. Present Law Reynolds noted that under present law, neither the state or local governments can build factories nor can they grant tax inducements other than in urban renewal cases. The governor said the study would provide his office and the Legislature with data on what other states are doing and what the probable effect of changes would be in Wisconsin. "This is not necessarily a matter of recommending such a program, but of learning the facts," he told the regents. The board authorized preparation of plans for an apartment building on the Madison campus to house 400 single undergrad- uate women. The project would cost $2.3 million, to be amortized over the project. Cost tized with student fees. The fa- of the study was estimated at $11,557. The Department of Re- source Development would con- tribute $7,758 and the university, $3,339. Prof. Benjamin Bridges would in memory of John F. Kennedy,

An anonymous donor from Rhinelander provided $2,600 and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee student government $600. The largest amount will be used for awards to Rhinelander area students. The Milwaukee award will be for lectureships and scholarships at UW-M. Gifts and grants accepted totaled $1,949,993. The National Science Foundation allocated $58,900 to sponsor a summer institute for secondary school teachers of physics and $52,500 for a summer institute for secondary teachers in biology, both at UW-M. The board approved establishment of two special summer institutes offering training in animal nutrition to secondary teachers of agriculture and science.

UW to Urge Attendance At Centers

MILWAUKEE (AP)—University of Wisconsin president Fred H. Harrington said Friday that although he still opposes limiting enrollment, freshmen will be encouraged to attend university centers instead of the school at Madison. Harrington told university regents that a more balanced growth of the school would be "in the best interests of the state." He said that a predicted enrollment boom is "so startling as to take one's breath away." "We have thus far resisted the imposition of an enrollment ceiling," Harrington said. "We have felt that the opportunity to go to Madison is a great advantage to the people of the state."

69 Winneconne Students Make Semester Roll

WINNECONNE — Sixty-nine students were named to nine-week and semester scholastic honor rolls at Winneconne High School, according to Prin. V. J. Wadleigh. One-third of the senior class was listed for either quarter or semester honors to lead the four classes. The juniors listed 24 per cent, freshmen 15 per cent and the sophomores 7 per cent. Laura Hesse, senior, and Linda Mathison, junior, earned straight A's for both the nine-week and semester. Chris Ataman, senior, and Stuart Boismenu, junior received straight A's for the second nine-week period.

The present honors list, Prin. Wadleigh said, is the largest honor roll of the last few years with 18 per cent of the student body receiving either nine-week or semester honors or both.

LITTLE CHUTE—Seventy-one students at St. John High School will be taking the Mathematical Association of America test Feb. 13 with scores to be judged in competition with those from other schools throughout the country. Local winners advance to regional and state competition. The test is open to sophomores, juniors and seniors.

World War I Unit To Initiate Class

NEENAH — A class of new members will be welcomed at the meeting of Neenah Barracks World War I Veterans, at the February meeting at 2 p.m. Monday at the Neenah Recreation Building, according to Prentice N. Rice, commander. A memorial to the late Lawrence Zielinski will be read by the chaplain, Walter Voigt. Refreshments will be served.

The State Coordinating Committee for Higher Education has forecast enrollments of 52,000 for the Madison campus, 19,500 for Milwaukee and 6,400 for the eight centers by 1973. The president said he considered it desirable to keep the projected Madison enrollment to under 50,000. He said he favored an expansion to 25,000 for UW-M and to 10,000 for the centers. He suggested one way to hold down the booming enrollment at Madison would be to add four-year university campuses in southeastern Wisconsin and the Fox River Valley.

Neenah Man Re-Enlists In Army Reserve Unit

MENASHA — Officials of the 274 Regiment, U. S. Army Reserve, with headquarters in Menasha, today announced the reenlistment of Sgt. Richard R. Tayer, Irish Road, Neenah, into the reserve group. Thayer, who was completing an eight year reserve enlistment was sworn in for three more years. He will join Company E of the Second Battalion.

New Fire Inspection Plan Set at Seymour

Quarterly Program to Include More Buildings Than in Past

SEYMOUR—The city council on either side of the Main Street center line were checked. Private dwelling exteriors will be inspected twice a year. Mory said he counted 67 structures in the old city fire zone. The check will also include schools in the city.

City Fire Inspector Robert Mory was told by the council he should check not only downtown business places but also the homes in which a business is conducted such as a beauty parlor or insurance office. Under the old method only those buildings located 153 feet

Expects Report

Mory said he was expecting a report from the Seymour Elementary School administration regarding installation of new fire extinguishers throughout the building and other safety improvements.

State statutes define public buildings as those including three or more family dwellings, such as apartment buildings. Mayor Ben Truymen cautioned, however, that no inspections would be made of private living quarters.

Mory said since residential and many business buildings have not been inspected by the city it will take time to develop a system. The inspector is a member of the Seymour Volunteer Fire Department and was appointed last year.

In another related matter the council agreed to seek information from the Wisconsin League of Municipalities concerning police and fire commissions, their membership and functions.

Conduct Code

A code of conduct for the police department has been under discussion by the council for a number of years. This is the first step in the direction of forming a commission consisting of city council representatives and businessmen.

Applications for a bartender's license by Arlin Bishop and a Class A beverage and liquor license by John Hebel, new owner of the Seymour Locker Plant, were granted.

The Harp residence is one of two pieces of property the city did not purchase when it obtained the site at Atlantic and Drew Streets for the No. 1 station.

City officials checked maps of the area and said they showed that Mrs. Harp's property had not been used as she alleges.

Seeks Compensation
Mrs. Harp claims she is entitled to compensation from the city for alleged damages done to five feet of her property, including removal of bushes, shrubbery and plants.

"I don't know how we could ever push that new building over five feet at this stage," said one official who asked to remain anonymous.

Through her attorney, Mrs. Harp is demanding, "The City of Appleton forthwith vacate my property and remove all structures erected both above and below the ground by it on my property and restore the property to the condition it was in prior to the commencement of construction of the fire station."

Mrs. Harp alleges the city claims to own 181 feet of frontage along Atlantic Street. She says five feet of it is her property.

Courthouse Develops New Space Problems

State Tax Department Records Removed; Outagamie Obtains 6,000 Square Foot Area

There suddenly is room to grow in the Outagamie County courthouse, as supervisors today areas are required to be built made hasty preparations to fill above ground. If the dormitories a 6,000 square foot void.

The county's property and insurance committee discussed a plan to move the county's crowded welfare department into the space made available by the, cutback in the State Department of Taxation space requirements.

At the same time, the committee suggested the sheriff's department and county police, along with a dormitory for Huber law prisoners be located in the space vacated by the welfare department.

At the present time, Huber law prisoners are housed in the fourth floor jail of the county courthouse along with the maximum security prisoners.

In the Cellar
The sheriff and traffic departments are in the courthouse's basement or first floor, and are directly across the hall from the welfare department.

If the move is made, it will make available other space which could be used by the district attorney and corporation counsel. In that way, all law enforcement functions would be in one central location.

Check Death Of Winnebago 'Walk-Away'

Was Sought for Questioning in Oshkosh Murder

OSHKOSH — Police Lt. Richard Guenther left Friday for Detroit to check on incidents preceding the traffic accident death Jan. 7 of Raymond Frank Marsh, 38, Oshkosh, a walk-away from Winnebago State Hospital.

Marsh was one of the persons being sought by the sheriff's office for questioning regarding the June 12 murder of Wayne C. Pratt, 24-year-old service station operator.

Marsh had walked away from the state hospital the same day Pratt was murdered. The sheriff's office wanted to question him as to his whereabouts on the day Pratt was killed. It is not known if there is any connection between his disappearance and the murder and this was one point the sheriff's office wanted to clear up as part of its investigation, Sheriff Richard T. Lowell said.

Detroit Morgue

Marsh was identified Thursday as the "John Doe" who had been at the Detroit morgue since Jan. 7. Two wallets with different identifications were found on him at the time of his death. A State Crime Laboratory bulletin issued this week listing Marsh as one of the persons wanted on a worthless check charge and for questioning in connection with the Pratt murder led to his identification Thursday. The bulletin contained Marsh's picture and fingerprints.

Boy Breaks Back in Class

Hilbert Youth Dives Off Board, Lands on Head

HILBERT — A sixth grade student at the public elementary school here suffered a probable broken back during a physical education class Friday morning. Bruce Rott, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rott, route 1, Hilbert, was injured while participating in a tumbling class some time between 10 and 11 a.m. Friday. He was taken to Calumet Memorial Hospital.

Paul BeBow, class instructor said the class was working on a "something be done on the river" springboard about 10 inches off the floor when the accident occurred.

Forward Roll

The class was told to spring on the board, land feet first on a mat on the floor and do a forward roll. BeBow said the "Rott boy came off the board as one would off a diving board and landed on his head, rather than, as he feet.

A Hilbert physician, Dr. James Pinney, said the injury appeared to be a probable fracture of the back.

The hospital reported the youth in fair condition and resting well.

St. Rose Principal Gets Masters Degree

CLINTONVILLE — Sister St. Thomas, teacher and principal at St. Rose Catholic School, received a master of arts degree in English from Marquette University, Milwaukee, at the end of the school's first semester.

Sister St. Thomas attended Holy Family College in Manitowish and was graduated from Mt. Mary College, Los Angeles, with a major in English and minors in French and philosophy.

Court Backs Widow's Compensation Claim

Decision Ends Prolonged Legal Battle By Wife of Injured Seymour Policeman

SEYMOUR — A Dane County Circuit Court ruling has upheld the claim of a Seymour policeman's widow to workman's compensation benefits due her husband before his death.

The decision, handed down by Judge Edwin M. Wilkie, may have ended a prolonged legal battle that began shortly after the late Ben Jankowski slipped and fell on ice while checking a store door March 9, 1959.

Judge Wilkie's ruling upheld a June 15, 1962, State Industrial Commission decision which awarded workman's compensation benefits to the policeman.

The city of Seymour, through its workman's compensation insurance carrier, Threshermen's Mutual Insurance Co., Fond du Lac, had appealed the commission's decision.

Claimed Injury
Jankowski claimed he was injured in the fall. Shortly after the incident he complained of leg pains and soon was unable to work. He was denied workman's compensation benefits by the city on grounds the fall could not have inflicted the crippling injury.

Jankowski petitioned for an industrial commission hearing. His testimony was taken at his hearing. The city of Seymour, through its workman's compensation insurance carrier, Threshermen's Mutual Insurance Co., Fond du Lac, had appealed the commission's decision.

19-Congregation Corporation Will Decide Procedure for $400,000 Program in March

The Fox Valley Lutheran High School Federation will meet in March to decide how to proceed on proposed $400,000 additions to the present building and a two-story addition attached to the east of the auditorium wing.

The proposed addition to the north would have a study hall for 125 students, with two attached small conference rooms, and an adjoining library with room for 55 students, with an end of this month and will be let out for bidding as soon as the building committee has okayed the plans.

The federation will meet after March are in, probably in late March, and will decide whether to proceed with all or part of the proposed building program.

If the federation approves, construction will be started as soon as possible, perhaps in May, according to the Rev. Harold Warnke, school principal. School officials hope that at least two or three rooms can be ready for use next fall.

19 Members
If the federation, made up of 19 member congregations, approves the complete building program, the goal of the debt bookkeeping equipment will increase from $425,000 to about $600,000 and business room will be used as a regular classroom.

The second proposed addition, to the east of the gymnasium, would have a music suite and a student publications area on the upper floor. The music suite would include a large band and choir room to accommodate 80 to 90 choristers or 60 to 65 band members; three practice rooms, music storage rooms and an office.

Rooms for the student newspaper and the yearbook, the canteen and bookstore and restrooms would be located to the north of the music suite.

Cafeteria for 300
The ground floor of this addition would have a cafeteria with seating for 300, a kitchen and a locker room. The cafeteria will be beneath the gymnasium, so the academic area will not be affected by noon hour noise. The former boys' locker room will be converted into a physical education locker room, and an area with 130 lockers for use by football, basketball and track teams will be east of this.

The present cafeteria, kitchen and canteen area near the main entrance would be remodeled as part of the proposed building program. The cafeteria and kitchen will be converted into a faculty room, a home economics room and a kitchen with four units for student cooks. The canteen and part of the cafeteria will be remodeled as a guidance center with an office, three interview rooms and a waiting room.

Pastor Ploetz said the proposed building program would mean continuation of the present four-year fund drive beyond the 1965 termination date. It would take a total of about 10 years to eliminate the entire debt, although an accelerated drive could cut this by two or three years, he said.

The federation started its $425,000 debt retirement and expansion fund drive in 1961, with about half the goal to be used for expansion. Pastor Ploetz said the original debt will be eliminated, or nearly so, by the end of this year, so that if a new loan is made it will be entirely for expansion.

The fund drive goal would have to be hiked to about $600,000 to cover the proposed building program, Pastor Ploetz said. A termination date of 1971 would be set for an expanded fund drive, he said.

More than $265,000 in pledges have been received by the fund drive. About $135,000 in cash has been received, including some unpledged contributions.

The Circuit Court ruling, if not appealed to the Supreme Court, entitles the widow to accrued, unpaid workman's compensation payments from the time of his disability to his death Dec. 21 to a widow's death benefit amounting to four times Jankowski's annual salary, estimated at $3,500, and to full payment of medical, hospital and drug expenses. Total benefits have not been tabulated.

Waupaca Downs Amherst to Stay Ahead in CW Race

Weyauwega Remains in Running With 71-49 Win Over Wautoma

CENTRAL WISCONSIN CONFERENCE
	W	L
Waupaca	11	1
Weyauwega	9	2
Wittenberg	8	3
Manawa	4	4
Amherst	4	5

Waupaca overcame another major hurdle in its drive toward the Central Wisconsin Conference championship, overcoming a 19-11 first-period deficit enroute to a 73-61 conquest of scrappy Amherst.

In the only other league action, Weyauwega remained in contention with a 71-49 triumph over Wautoma, and Wittenberg dumped Marion, 87-67.

A 27-point outburst in the second stanza enabled the Comets to take a seemingly comfortable 38-28, halftime advantage over Amherst but the Falcons came roaring back to narrow the gap to 51-49 at the end of three periods.

Waupaca was not to be denied, however, as it meshed 22 points in the fourth frame, while limiting Amherst to 12. Chuck Dahlke led the Comets' last quarter surge with seven of his 15 points.

Gary Johanknecht paced the winners in scoring with 18 markers, while Barry Osicka coined 17 for the Vikings.

Paced by Barker, Weyauwega had little trouble disposing of the Hornets as Harold Barker led an early Indian surge to a 19-12 first-period lead. Wautoma made a gallant bid in the final quarter as Darrell Parker meshed six points and Jerry Caswell added four more to pull within six points of the Indians but that was as close as the Hornets could get.

Larry Kriese and Dick Aebly sparked the winners to their ninth win in 11 outings with 19 and 17 points, respectively. Caswell was high for Amherst with 17 tallies.

Wittenberg's Wildcats offset a 28-point performance by Marion's Tom Jolin in running their conference slate to 8-3.

Wittenberg set a torrid pace in hitting at a 51 per cent clip from the floor and 91 per cent from the free throw line, converting 23 of 26 tries.

Jolin was a constant threat for the Pigeons as he proved equally efficient with long one-handers from outside and from either corner.

Steve Voeltz and Steve Strong finished one-two in scoring for the Maroons, netting 25 and 19 points, respectively.

AMHERST — Aebly 8-11; Barker 7-11; Pitt 7-14; Kroghwald 6-13; Osicka 2-12; Reidel 0-20; T. Osicka 1-0-0; 25-115, 19-12-12-61.

School League Hears Talk on Commercial Art

The Appleton High School Art Students League heard Peter Giovannini, AHS art instructor, speak on the varied areas of commercial art recently.

Giovannini explained the field of illustration and its outlets in magazines, newspapers, books, catalogs, greeting cards, fashion work and architectural delineation.

Product design, packaging, automobile design, textile design, displays, ceramics, jewelry and ornamental design in metal, wood and plastics were offered as possible job areas.

Technical illustration offers opportunities in engineering, medicine and photo retouching, he said. Journalism would include advertising layout, illustration and cartooning.

The mass media outlets of television and movies use aspects of commercial art in animation, advertising, scenery and costuming. Interior decorating is a field in itself, Giovannini said.

Richard "Bud" Lowell, Winnebago County sheriff, will speak at a 6:30 p.m. dinner Monday in the Masonic Temple, Clintonville. Clintonville will entertain members of the Inter-City Chapter DeMolay. Lowell will discuss sports. He is well known for his coaching activities.

Cub Scout Dinner Planned at Fremont

FREMONT—A blue and gold banquet for Cub Scouts of Pack 145 was planned at a den mothers meeting Tuesday.

UW to Urge Attendance At Centers

MILWAUKEE (AP)—University of Wisconsin president Fred H. Harrington said Friday that, although he still opposes limiting enrollment, freshmen will be encouraged to attend university centers instead of the school at Madison.

Harrington told university regents that a more balanced growth of the school would be "in the best interests of the state." He said that a predicted enrollment boom is "so startling as to take one's breath away."

"We have thus far resisted the imposition of an enrollment ceiling," Harrington said. "We have felt that the opportunity to go to Madison is a great advantage to the people of the state."

However, Harrington said, the development of eight existing centers and the planned addition of a half dozen more will broaden opportunities for freshman-sophomore study off the Madison and Milwaukee campuses.

The State Coordinating Committee for Higher Education has forecast enrollments of 52,000 for the Madison campus, 19,600 for Milwaukee and 6,400 for the eight centers by 1973.

The president said he considered it desirable to keep the projected Madison enrollment to under 50,000. He said he favored an expansion to 25,000 for UW-M and to 10,000 for the centers.

He suggested one way to hold down the booming enrollment at Madison would be to add four-year university campuses in southeastern Wisconsin and the Fox River Valley.

Fair Building Bids May be Taken in March

Winnebago County Looks to Plans For Structure

OSHKOSH — Bids may be taken late in March for the new fairgrounds and 4-H building at the county fairgrounds, architect Leonard Reinke of the firm of Irion and Reinke advised the county fair, park, conservation and recreation committee Thursday night.

Plans for the new building, budgeted at $50,000, were reviewed by the committee with Reinke and Robert Misky, fair association secretary and fair manager.

Two proposals were offered to the committee. One would be a concrete block building with a built up roof and the other would be a metal building. The committee decided in favor of the metal building.

Year-Round Use

The new building will be erected for year-round use and for numerous purposes besides the exhibits of 4-H projects and farm product in the county fair. It could be used for trade shows, home shows, meetings, banquets and roller skating, it was suggested.

A building that size could accommodate 1,000 persons viewing exhibits or 600 to 900 at a banquet or in chairs for a convention, Reinke said.

A large 12 by 14 foot door will be on the west end toward the grandstand, large enough for moving trucks and semi-trailers into the building for unloading or for displays.

Traffic Mishap Damages Up

Police Report at Seymour Lists 1963 Total at $12,649

SEYMOUR — Property damage resulting from automobile accidents in Seymour during 1963 totaled $3,000 more than in 1962, according to Police Chief Bernard Plumb's annual report.

The city extended its record of fatality free years to nine. The last traffic death occurred Oct. 9, 1954.

Plumb explained that two accidents last year had a total property damage of $4,000. This sent the 1963 total over the 1962 mark. Damage amounted to $12,649 in 1963 and $9,461 in 1962.

In the past three years the accident rate has varied only slightly—53 in 1963, 52 in 1962 and 57 in 1961. The department, consisting of Chief Plumb, his assistant, Harlan Thompson, and three part time officers, James Schutte, Don Vanden Berg and Leonard Kaczorowski, logged 7,076 hours during 1963. The rate was below both of the two previous years covered in the report.

Other Categories

Other categories covered were:

Novelist Takes Close Look at Power Elite

The title of "The Bells of the First Crusade, Shoreditch" by James Kennaway emerges from a symbolically way is from an old nursery concealing cellar and attempts rhyme, but this is a very adult, to comprehend his part in the contemporary and in a sense massacre of an entire community of Jews.

After passing through the ghastly burial details, the smiles, the averted eyes, Belmarch is confronted by the Jew, Annas. In his tortured visions, the angel withholding blessing in his place is Annas, the divided man — one half of his mind dealing ironically with reality and the other half concealing grief with words of understanding.

It was Annas' child Belmarch had killed, and as the two wander away from the scene of the massacre the roles of tormentor and tormented change again and again, each man laying the charge of isolated humanity before the other.

The interdependence grows through sulphuric visions of oracles: a wizened archbishop, whose promise to shield the Jews was paralyzed into ineffectuality; treachery; a mad anarchist who cures the maimed hand of Belmarch, and the people who are sick at heart, who smile, who don't care.

At the close Belmarch and Annas are drawn back to the scene of the killing, to Belmarch's attempt at suicide, but the Jew has welded his tragedy into the mechanics of survival and steps to prevent the suicide and the stalling of Belmarch's conviction with the abstraction of integrity, or the very real, chameleon charms of those involved, particularly Stella Vass.

"Belmarch" by Christopher Davis is a haunting and intense novel set in Central Europe in 1936 in which the author attempts to externalize the horror, grief and agony of mass human slaughter. Belmarch, foot toward a deep, buried nerve in the human condition.

Other new works of fiction include "Nelson Aigren's Own Book of Lonesome Monsters," "A Change of Plea" by Camilla Bittle, "The 12th of Never" by Douglas Heyes, "Going to Town and Other Stories" by Iurii Kazakov, "All the Gods and Goddesses" by Kay Martin, "Looking for the General" by Warren Miller, "By the North Gate" by Joyce Oates, and "The Big Brass Ring" by Don Tracy.

JCC, Library Wage War on Obscene Books

Appleton Jaycees and the Appleton Public Library are joining forces to wage war on obscene literature.

Jaycees will sponsor an exhibit of "Good Reading for Youth" at the local library for a week starting Friday.

Eugene Knight, Jaycee chairman of the exhibit, said "much concern has developed from the abundance of obscene material, standard comic books and horror stories available on many book stands."

"This material in the hands of children and young adults tends to distort attitudes toward society and degrade the moral standards of our youth," he said.

About 400 books for children and 200 paperback titles of interest to the high school student will be on display.

Knight said the books will be on display in the art room in the children's department of the library. Book lists for future reference will be available, he said.

The POWER of FAITH

Through the Faith and perseverance of Francis Asbury, Methodism spread throughout America early in our history. He came to America in 1771 as a missionary from England. Like the founder of his faith, John Wesley, he traveled constantly on horseback, preaching wherever he went. He averaged 600 miles a year and became the first circuit rider in America. This method of preaching to a number of communities is used by ministers in isolated areas even today.

In the late 1700's a conference of Methodist preachers in Baltimore elected Asbury as their leader. It was the beginning of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, with Francis Asbury as bishop. His almost ceaseless traveling and devotion to his cause increased the number of Methodists in America to 200,000 by the end of his life.

No Office Job Army Chaplain Advocates Ministry of 'Thereness'

BY CARL C. CRAFT FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—The Army chaplain cannot serve his men from an office in the chapel, says Capt. Norman Walker.

Guided by the principle, Chaplain Walker joined the U.S. Army Rangers, a tough outfit renowned for its rugged training.

"To be effective, today's chaplain must meet the challenge of what I call the ministry of 'thereness'—of being where the men are," Walker said.

Walker, 34, will go to Korea later this year. The Mississippi native entered the nine-week Ranger course at Ft. Benning, Ga. "to get a better understanding of what the men must go through."

Second Chaplain He became the second chaplain in the school's history to complete the training. All rank and insignia removed, the men learn hand-to-hand combat, techniques of survival and protection in swamps, mountains and other rugged terrain.

"I must make it clear that I have no anticipation of bearing arms or of being in a combat situation," Walker said.

"But I never want to be a burden if isolated in combat. I wanted to know how my men train to survive, and I want to know how to guide them spiritually."

Your Problems

'Till Death Do Us Part' Seems Old-Fashioned to Many of Us

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a high school senior who always thought marriage was for keeps, or as the vows say, "till death do us part."
After reading your column for a couple of years, I get the impression that "forever" means "until she gets fat or he gets bald, or someone more attractive comes along."
A girl in our senior class eloped two weeks ago. When I asked her if she was truly in love and was sure her marriage would last she said, "If it doesn't work we can always get a divorce."

I would be willing to bet right now that the girl has no intention of spending the rest of her life with the fellow she married.
Are people different today than they were 30 years ago? I would like to know the answer.
— Double O
Dear Double O: People are the same — and have been for centuries. Improved U. S. standards of living, however, have had an impact on our standards of morality. The old, dependable guidelines have slipped away.
Women work alongside men today as they never did before. They make good salaries and hold responsible positions. If the marriage doesn't measure up to the story book version she can tell him to get lost. And more and more both wives and husbands are telling each other to get lost. That high school runaway bride will probably be looking for a lawyer within two years.

DEAR ANN: I am female, 23, unmarried, gainfully employed and miserable. One day my head aches, the next day I have indigestion and then I break out with hives. It's been this way for 10 years.
I am tired of paying medical bills and hearing that I am "not sick." Can you help?—Disgusted
Dear Disgusted: A very wise doctor once said, "If the pains keep traveling from head to stomach to back, to feet, etc. it's best not to waste your money on doctors. The trouble is really between the eyebrows and the hairline."
I suggest that you see a doctor who specializes in your real illness.

The Ailing House Cleaning Yellow on Plastic

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN
Q: The light gray plastic diquette set we use in our kitchen has become quite yellowed after several years of use. How can I clean this plastic upholstery?
A: The yellowing may be due to a build-up of wax on the surface or an accumulation of grease from cooking vapors. To clean, try using a foam-type upholstery cleaner (available in aerosol form at housewares and hardware dealers) for use on plastic upholstery. Or scrub with a strong detergent solution and a medium stiff brush, followed by rinsing with clear water and wiping dry.
If the yellowing is due to sulfur fumes (such as from the chimney from a nearby factory), wipe with a six percent solution of hydrogen peroxide, allow to remain about 30 minutes on the plastic surface. Then rinse off with clear water and wipe dry. Repeat treatment if necessary.
Q: My red leather, fleece-lined boots which I wear mostly in snow and cold weather, have white marks around the bottom. How can I get these discolorations out?
A: Wipe or brush off any dirt, mud or dust. Then apply a leather-conditioning and cleaning preparation, available at housewares, hardware and variety and shoe repair stores. Sometimes polishing with a paste wax shoe polish will remove these stains. After application, allow the wax to remain for a while, then buff well.
Q: We are concerned about an odor around our toilet. How can we get rid of this?
A: The odor may be due to a leak in the waste piping; or from a break in the water seal in the trap, or the seal where pipes meet under the bowl fixture may have sprung a leak. I recommend having a competent plumber inspect and make any necessary repairs.
Q: What can be done to remove rust from steel or aluminum storm windows? We would like to paint them with aluminum paint, after the rust is removed. What kind of paint should be used?
A: Rust that is loose or flaking can be removed with steel wool and turpentine. Then clean the entire surface with turpentine to remove all trace of grease, soot, etc. To the clean metal surface, apply a damp-proof primer which can be applied over sound rusted surfaces; finish with a finish coating made by the same manufacturer in ready-mixed aluminum (or any other desired color). Available most paint and hardware dealers.

hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I have a wonderful idea for old those women and girls who wear sneakers and tennis shoes in pastel colors. We girls especially love to wear the pastel colors, but once you have washed them there is not much "life" left in them.
My little invention was: After they have been washed, buy white shoe polish and pour the needed amount in a cup (enough to polish the shoes) and then add a few drops of food coloring! Add just enough to make the exact shade you want. Mix it up well and then apply as usual to your sneakers and you're all set.
I tried this experiment with my sneakers and the results were excellent. I'm 14 years old.
Jeanette Wallace
P. S. For white sneakers which have become discolored, the color can be changed often since food coloring usually washes right out when mixed with white shoe polish.
Dear Heloise:
Instead of frying bacon in a skillet we fry it in a deep, five-inch, heavy aluminum sauce pan. This way the grease does not spatter over the stove and the stove stays clean. Saves cleaning the stove later.
Sarah Johnson
Dear Heloise:
This perhaps will help someone who has stood too close to a mirror with hair spray when she was in a hurry and the spray mars the mirrors.
I asked a beautician friend of mine and she told me to use nail polish remover to remove the spray from my mirror.
All one has to do is pour some on a piece of facial tissue toilet tissue or a piece of cotton and wipe the mirror. Then clean as usual. Your mirror is as good as new again.

Making an egg salad used to be a job for me but now instead of cutting the eggs I mash them with our potato masher! (The type with the square holes) I find this does a very good job and it sure makes short work of making egg salad.

I keep the pad in the bathtub to avoid slipping when I'm taking a shower.
Would some of you dear readers please help me by telling me what I can do to remove the stain?

Did you ever break a glass on your floor? The best way I know to pick up the bits of glass which you can't see is to wet a piece of woolen cloth and wipe up the floor.
All the tiny particles of glass will stick to the cloth. Discard the cloth afterward.

Sheinwold Penalty Double Is Warning

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
The trouble with sharpening your axe is that you can't always be sure of where to find the turkey: he may be sitting in your own chair. If you paste this warning on the edge of your bridge table you may be able to keep out of the soup kettle.

just as the bidding indicated, and declarer continued with the ace of spades and a low spade, ruffed by an honor.
This series of plays permitted South to strip spades from both hands, just as the first three tricks had stripped the clubs. Only the red suits remained.
Declarer cashed the ace of hearts and led his carefully preserved low heart to dummy's nine. This drew trumps and simultaneously put declarer in dummy for a diamond play.
When South next took a finesse with the nine of diamonds, West could win with the queen but could not find a safe return. If West returned a diamond, South would get a free finesse; and if West returned anything else, dummy would discard the losing diamond while South ruffed.
It's hard to blame West for his double: most players don't double often enough. Still, it was the double that led declarer to his successful but desperate line of play.
Daily Question
As dealer, you hold: S K J 10 5 H 8 3 D K Q 8 C A
K J 8. What do you say?
West's double of one heart was for takeout, but his double of four hearts was clearly meant as a rebuke. South had gone out of his mind, West's tone of voice suggested, and he would have to pay for it.
West cashed the top clubs and continued with the jack of clubs, forcing South to ruff. Naturally, declarer ruffed with an honor, saving an entry to dummy.
The bidding warned South that both diamond honors were behind him. Desperate measures were therefore necessary to prevent the loss of two diamond tricks.
Unnecessary Play
After ruffing the third club South led his singleton spade edge and took an "unnecessary" finesse by playing dummy's Poole and Mrs. Shirley Bergs-queen. The finesse succeeded, baken.

Another Chip on Castro's Shoulder

Columnist James Marlow wrote earlier in the week that President Johnson, like President Kennedy, had managed to get through 75 days in the White House "without any known calamities . . . but then the roof fell in on Kennedy. On his 85th day he headed into a major mistake and it was self-made. That was the day the disastrous Cuban invasion got under way."

And now Cuba has taken two new provocative actions that can well start the roof crumbling over LBJ.

The Cuban fishermen, trawling in Florida waters, could possibly have drifted off course although it is unlikely. But the irate Cuban action in cutting off the water supply to Guantanamo until the 36 fishermen are released was simply putting a chip on the shoulder. Castro had Khrushchev's public promise only two weeks ago of assistance in case Cuba was invaded and he is throwing it in our teeth. It is even possible that Castro would welcome an attack in order to get him off the hook of the failures of his system. But since Cuba's trade relations with the rest of the world are brighter, it is more likely that Castro is counting on our backing down.

So once again we are brought face to face with the nagging existence of a hostile communist state 90 miles away and right next door to one of our major naval bases. Our wishful thinking that somehow Castro and his island would sink into the Caribbean is not enough.

In what is now called the "current" Cuban crisis, perhaps we can get out of it without losing too much prestige. Although Florida is now charging the Cubans with breaking a state law. The United States conceivably could belatedly accept the fishermen's story that they accidentally drifted. Of course that would mean new provocations from a gleeful Castro. Or we can supply water to Guantanamo by boat and wait for the next dare and nose-thumbing.

But in the long run, exactly what is our policy toward Cuba? The rest of the world is ignoring our efforts to clamp down a trade embargo. England and France have made deals on buses, tractors and trucks. Two of the Cuban trawlers in our waters came from Japan. Now violently anti-Red Spain is showing indications of wanting more trade not only with its former colonial possession, Cuba, but with the Soviet Union as well. Where do we go from here?

At the start of Castro's marathon speeches against the United States, commentators shrugged off the insults with the idea that we could take over Cuba "any Monday morning." But the opportunity was lost at the refusal of President Kennedy to give the required air support at the Bay of Pigs. And we now are on the defensive on our relations with Cuba as far as almost all the rest of the world is concerned.

The Organization of American States, at one time thought to be our biggest hope in containing Cuban communism, is now faced with duplicate charges, one of Cuban terrorism in Venezuela, the other of American imperialism in Panama. Its conclusions are bound to be some sort of a compromise. And our present state of affairs is the result, not so much of our reluctance to take over Cuba when we easily could, but of compromise among the leading foreign policy advisors in Washington.

The Archbishop Is a Politician, Too

Archbishop Makarios' insistence that any troops sent to Cyprus to quell the impending civil war must be under the authority of the United Nations Security Council is not really a serious effort to stop the fighting. The archbishop is looking ahead to triumph of his long dream for enosis or union with Greece. Unfortunately he is not looking any further than that.

At present such peace that is being kept is the work of 3,000 British troops. But they obviously are not enough. Great Britain, no longer drafting its young men into the armed services, is short of troops and those it has are spread around the world from Malaysia to Tanganyika. The proposal of some 10,000 troops from North Atlantic nations including 2,000 from the United States was accepted by the Turkish leaders but not by Makarios.

Instead, the archbishop would have troops from the Security Council—and that means bringing the ever-eager Soviet Union into the fray. Makarios well knows the dislike between Turkey and Russia. He hopes that Security Council action would either drive out the Turkish Cypriotes or at least force an island-wide referendum on joining Greece which certainly would win. And he thinks the threat of Russian intervention might prevent Turkish efforts to protect the interests of the Turkish Cypriotes.

The future for Cyprus is bleak indeed. The Greek majority and Turkish minority have been at odds ever since the island received its independence from Great Britain. But since the recent fighting and the atrocities on both sides, emotions are out of control. The Greeks oppose what is virtually a veto power on legislation by the Turks. And the latter have good reason to fear a lack of concern for their interests without such power.

We are not at all convinced that American troops are warranted in this case. Already Cypriote students are demonstrating against American "imperialism."

But the threat to NATO in this conflict is really serious. By inviting in the Russians, Makarios could well get his enosis—and Cyprus might well lose its independence, not by attachment to Greece but by Communist manipulation. The always delicate relationship between Turkey and Greece would be endangered. And Makarios has conveniently overlooked the fact that it is NATO which is responsible in the long run for the ability of all the small countries in the area to remain independent of their huge neighbor to the northeast.

If Makarios was a real leader for peace and justice he would have sought to minimize, over the years, the conflicts between Greek and Turkish Cypriotes. Instead he has emphasized and probably thereby inflamed them. The way out is not to invite in the Russians but Makarios has not taken well to advice from the West before and we doubt that he will change.

Reds Again Show Unconcern

The Soviet Union thus far has offered no reasonable explanation for the shooting down of a United States Air Force unarmed jet trainer last week.

Apparently both the radio and navigational equipment on the trainer failed and it headed east over the East German border. But, since the Russians certainly monitor radio calls, they must have known that something was amiss. Usually in such cases the plane is forced down and an explanation demanded. But this time two MIGs merely shot the plane down, killing its three occupants, all Air Force officers.

It is always difficult to tell whether such incidents are the result of human failings such as a too eager trigger finger on the part of the Russian pilots, or whether the orders to take extreme measures came from the Kremlin. The halting of United States convoys on the autobahn this winter was such an example although not so fatal a one. Is it part of a Russian plan to keep us ever on the alert or to emphasize their strength? If so, the latest incident was, as Sen Richard Russell charged, "premeditated, unnecessary and cold-blooded murder."

Once again we have an indication of the lack of concern for human life by the communists. The episode will not reduce tensions in the area any more than did the erection of the Berlin Wall.

Diplomatic recognition from France has boosted Red China's chances of gaining the seat in the United Nations that has been denied to her for the past 14 years.

But the prospects of admittance in 1964 are far from certain. The key to the U. N. door for the Peking Communists may lie in the future policies of the 15 former French colonies or trusteeships in sub-Saharan Africa.

With the notable exceptions of Guinea and Mali, the one-time French dependencies have clung fairly closely to the French line in foreign affairs since they gained independence in the last five years.

Voted Down, 57-41
The last time the question of Red China's admittance came before the U. N., in October, 1953, it was turned down by a margin of 57-41, with 12 abstentions and one absence.

Former French Africa contributed 12 of the 57 nays. Guinea and Mali, they have since they cast their first votes in the U. N., voted for admittance. Mauritania abstained.

Should France reverse its vote and should its former African possessions follow suit, it would add 14 votes in the Communist total, making 55, and subtract 13 from the Western column, making 44.

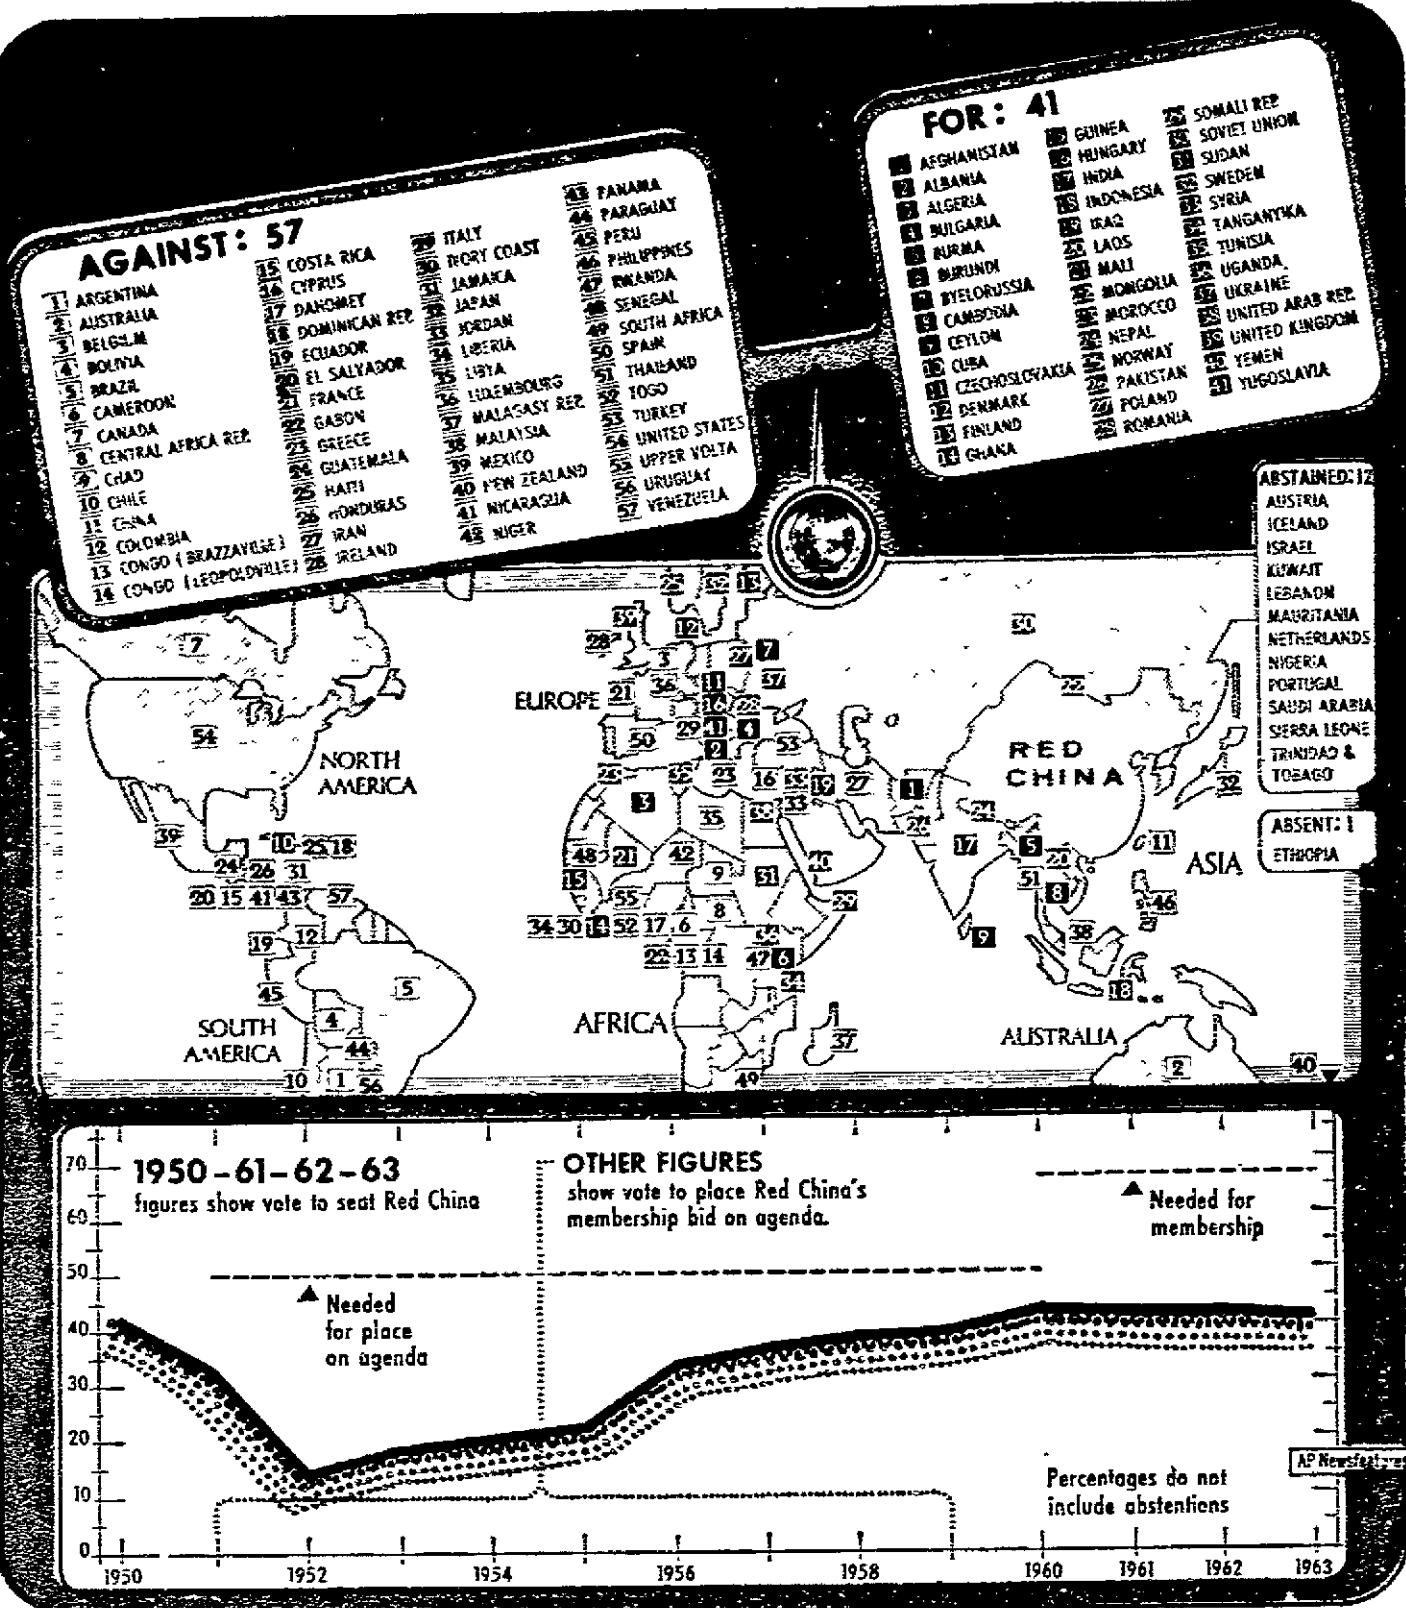

Much then would depend on the votes of the abstainers in 1963 and of the newcomers in the U. N., Kenya and Zanzibar, who are likely to vote with the Chinese.

New Two-Thirds Majority
Right now it takes more than a simple majority to gain a seat in the General Assembly. A United States resolution passed in 1961 and aimed at Red China, requires a two-thirds majority.

The catch is that it would take only a simple majority, or one vote more than 50 per cent, to reverse the two-thirds rule.

Red China's drive to obtain a U. N. seat has fluctuated widely since the issue first came to a vote in 1950. In that year it was turned back, 33-16, with 10 abstentions. It got 33 percent of the vote.

For the next 10 years, the United States fought successfully to shelve the question at

Goldwater Favored by State GOP Leaders

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — There are signs of increasing uncertainty among the Wisconsin Republican professionals and the activists in the ranks about the presidential nomination of the party.

Such polling of the state and district and county leaders of the party machine as has been done during the last year and until a few weeks ago shows a heavy preponderance of Goldwater sentiment, both with regard to the personal preference of the leaders asked, and in their estimates of the relative positions of the candidates, real and potential.

But a closer examination indicates a growing doubt that the Goldwater campaign for the nomination will succeed, and more particularly, that it would be as practicable a decision for the party in view of

Power Is Usurped by Governor

Editor, Post-Crescent:

There was a time when we elected a governor we thought that we were electing a person who with the help of the senate and assembly, would govern the people according to the laws of the state. Now it appears that we have elected a governor that would change our laws, usurp the power of the state house, and govern the state to his liking.

The first indication of this change was noticed a year ago when our governor told his legislators that there would be no compromise. If they did not work his will, he would use his power of veto. Then later on the battles in the state house between the chief executive and the agents of the state over the appointment of the personnel to state offices clearly indicate the intent of the governor.

Under our constitution, our government has been so set up as to prevent any such action taking place. Set up to prevent any one person from taking over the power of the people.

the installation of Lyndon Johnson in the presidency.

COOLING?

It is sometimes difficult in making local political assessments to determine whether the politicians are communicating their own considered judgment, or what they have been led to believe on the basis of the ubiquitous public opinion polls.

Such politicians also tend to reflect what they perceive in the way of undercurrents in national politics — such as the heavy recent publicity given to Gov. Scranton of Pennsylvania as potentially the fastest troler in the stable of dark horses.

For what it is worth, this reporter made a deliberate effort to query as many persons as possible at the Republican contributors' dinner at Milwaukee last week, one of the most successful events of its kind held lately. The conclusion is inescapable: Sen. Goldwater remains the heavy favorite among Republicans of this state of organization stature, the kind of men who are likely to have voting credentials at the nominating convention at San Francisco five months hence, but they are not as sure that he will win the nomination, and they are not as sure that he can win the election if nominated, as they were a year ago or even four or five months ago.

The spectre is the probability that President Johnson will be able to carry the South, or much of it, and thus reduce Goldwater's "availability" for the nomination and his prospects as the nominee. That this is a problem elsewhere was evident at Milwaukee when Sen. John Tower of Texas, the chief Southern champion of Goldwater, spent a good deal of time arguing with local Republican leaders. Tower insisted that Goldwater could carry a majority of the Southern states over Johnson.

OTHERS
The impression prevails also that practicing local Republican politicians, including those who will run for office this year, regard Richard Nixon as an increasingly plausible contender. If there are representative Wisconsin Republicans who take Gov. Rockefeller seriously, they are keeping their opinions to themselves. Several politicians at Milwaukee insisted that the reason for the nationally publicized Scranton boom is the conviction that the "eastern Republicans"—in the suggestive Wisconsin construction — have written off Rockefeller and are preparing to use Scranton as their reserve runner. Judged from a Middlewestern perspective, the theory has a certain plausibility.

It now is reasonably certain that Wisconsin will send an uncommitted and virtually uncommitted delegation to the convention in July under the name of Rep. Byrnes as a "favorite son." After a complimentary vote for the congressman, that Wisconsin delegation will act as free agents—the first of their kind in decades. If they reflect then what appears to be the sentiment of the party as a whole today, they will tend to be pro-Goldwater, but there won't be any strings tying them that could not be cut several ways, according to the circumstances of that time.

Violent Attacks of Allergy Can be Fatal

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. larly by injection, causes such a severe shock to the whole system that death occurs or is imminent.

(This is the second of two articles on allergy.)

Some attacks of allergy are dangerous: they can be deadly. Not often, perhaps, yet frequently enough so that people who are highly sensitive to certain things should be aware of the possibility.

Angioneurotic edema is a form of hives, but it involves Dr. Molner the deeper tissues instead of the outer skin.

A relative of a close friend had a narrow brush with this form only last summer. He was staying at a cabin in the woods, and one day passed a field of ragweed.

His breathing became difficult (due to swelling of tissues at the opening of the windpipe) and he collapsed. Such attacks can be fatal, and at times have been.

In this case a relative was alerted enough to know that breathing in connection with ragweed would help.

She was right—and he quickly recovered. It is altogether likely that her quick thinking saved his life.

In other cases (often, with penicillin, if the person has become sensitized to it) the feet may be so swollen and painful as to make walking impossible. It is the same sort of reaction, except centered in another part of the body.

The difference between severe allergy and anaphylactic shock is, for practical purposes, a matter of degree. Some individuals are so intensely hypersensitive that contact, particularly,

Penicillin reactions are sometimes in this category. Another example is insect stings. While this is not common, they nevertheless cause more deaths, in the temperate zones at any rate, than bites from poisonous snakes. In such instances immediate use of adrenalin or steroids may sometimes be the only remedy between the patient and quick death.

I hope these examples will not panic anyone but they do emphasize that in some instances the danger can be extreme. Even aspirin, for in-had a narrow brush with this form only last summer. He was staying at a cabin in the woods, and one day passed a field of ragweed.

Jingo Votes 'Ugh' to Teen-Agers' Pop Music

Paul Lavalle's Nostalgic Concert Sets Off Trial Experiment in Listening

BY JINGO

For the last few days Jingo has been conducting an experiment. It has been disagreeable to work and at times he has had some fear of sustaining permanent damage to his nervous system and audio equipment. Jingo's been listening to the current "music" popular with the teen-agers.

The test was given impetuous last month when Jingo and his teen-age sounding board attended the concert by Paul Lavalle's Band of America.

The most impressive part of the program—as far as Jingo was concerned—was the nostalgic medley of the big sounds of the 1940s. Listening to the familiar strains of Glenn Miller, Benny Goodman, Harry James et al triggered a flood of reminiscences from Jingo into the ear of his young companion.

"How about that!" Jingo exclaimed. "There's real music. How can you stand the stuff you listen to?"

His companion admitted that the themes of the Dorsey and the like were all right, but then he brought Jingo up short with "That was your music. Why can't we have our kind too?"

The remark recalled conversations a generation old in which Jingo sought acceptance for the frenzy of Krupa and the pouting cuteness of Benny Baker. Each generation should have its own!

So the experiment was started! Jingo listened — cringing and trembling, perhaps — but he listened.

2-Word Description

Despite every effort to be absolutely fair and open-minded, what registered on Jingo's writhing ear and brain must be summed up in two words — monotony and mediocrity.

The two must go together. A child — of whatever age — of reservations for the Calumet vide one entertainment act.

French Artist To Present Organ Recital

French artist Marie - Claire Alain will present an organ recital in the St. Norbert Abbey Church at 8:15 p.m. Friday, Feb. 21.

Tickets are available at Newman's in Appleton and at the abbey porter's office.

Miss Alain is one of a family of musicians, of whom her brother, Jehan Alain, composer of "Litanies," is the most famous.

A true prodigy, she became organist of her local church at the age of 11, replacing her father. She entered the Conservatory of Paris at 18.

In a period of six years at the conservatory she won four first prizes, in harmony, counterpoint, fugue, organ and improvisation. She also was awarded the diploma in music pedagogy.

In 1950 she won the competition in organ performance and improvisation at the Concours International in Geneva and, in 1951, the J. S. Bach Prize in Paris.

Miss Alain has made over 40 recordings and has won six Grand Prix du Disque. Although she has a special interest in the works of Bach and those of the French classical school, her repertoire is all-inclusive, featuring many contemporary composers as well.

When a popular record is kind, the major thing heard is this instrumental monotony. The kind records are the ones in which the absolutely nerve-rendering cacophony of soul scraping voices screech through lyrics. Unkind? They're subversive!

This type of non-music is in the vast majority. There are some few "discs" that approach something like skill, training and taste. Even some records that have won teen popularity have real merit and would have been popular in any generation.

In the Fox Cities much of the musical taste of our youngsters is controlled or fostered by a night time disc jockey following the thing of the moment. Jingo wonders what would happen if this fellow tried to lead rather than follow. Perhaps it would take too much courage.

The Lawrence College basketball resurgence continued to pick up momentum as the Vikings notched an 81-74 victory over Monmouth at Alexander Gymnasium Friday night.

The win for Coach Clyde Rusk's cagers was their third straight in the Midwest Conference and their eighth in the last 11 games. Lawrence now has a 5-4 conference mark while the Scots have a 3-8 mark.

Lawrence, now in fourth place, will go after its fourth in a row against Knox this afternoon.

Changes Hands

The 7-point spread of the final score of the win over Monmouth is not a true indication of how close the game really was. The lead changed hands 14 times in the contest and seldom did one team get more than a 5-point advantage.

Lawrence grabbed the lead from the start, saw it fade to a 3-point deficit midway in the first half and then fought back to a 42-39 halftime lead. Monmouth trailed throughout the early minutes of the second stanza but rallied to take the lead with 11-40 left in the game. The Scots remained in front and at one time had a 67-61 lead.

Steve Nault, Joel Ungrodt and Tom Steinmetz played major roles in the final three minutes of action which saw the Vikings rally to pull the game out.

Hoover Hits 27

However, the principal stand-out for the Vikings was Earl Hoover, a 6-4 junior, who played one of his best games. Hoover had 13 field goals, 10 in the first half and one free throw to lead all scorers with 27 points.

In addition to his scoring, Hoover was a demon on rebounds against the taller Scots. Frequently Hoover went high in the air to pull down the ball including several key grabs in the last minutes when Lawrence was

Sweden Wins Men's Olympic Ski Relay Title

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Assar Roennlund overcame his rivals in an exciting finish and brought Sweden the gold medal for the 40-kilometer men's ski relay in the Winter Olympics today.

Finland was second, Russia third, and Norway fourth.

Sweden's time was 2 hours, 18 minutes, 34.6 seconds for the approximately 25 miles. Finland did 2:18:42.1, Russia 2:18:46.9 and Norway 2:19:11.9.

LITTLE CHUTE — St. John High School cagers out fought Lourdes High School, Oshkosh, for three quarters here Friday night, but ran out of steam in the fourth period and saw the lead melt as Oshkosh rang up a 27-11 point advantage in the frame for a 68-61 win.

Joe Suda, who saw little action in the first half, came off the bench in the second half and rallied his team to the win with 17 points, 11 coming in the deciding period. The lanky youth popped in baskets at will from the side corners and his height advantage made it impossible for the Dutchmen to stop him.

The Flying Dutchmen just seemed to run out of steam as they controlled the boards and intercepted many passes in the early stages of the game, but fell apart before the Oshkosh barrage. Oshkosh took over the lead with three minutes gone in the final period and then widened the margin.

Bruce Hammen opened the scoring for Little Chute with a free throw but Chuck Grable countered with a basket for Lourdes. Hammen hit on a NEENAH—Kimberly exploded for 47 points in the second half to gun down Neenah, 79-55, for its ninth Mid-Eastern Conference verdict in 10 outings here Friday night.

The victory boosted the Papermakers' overall mark to 13-1 while for Neenah the defeat was its seventh straight. It has 3-7 M-E and 6-8 aggregate logs.

The smaller Rockets stayed with their giant adversaries for slightly better than a half and then the latter's height, rebounding and scoring power began to tell.

Except for a 2-2 tie, Kimberly led the entire first quarter but its advantage never got above four points. The score was 16-13 at its conclusion.

Neenah tied the count at 19-19 and 23-23 halfway through the second stanza. The visitors hit five straight points but Neenah's Dave Buchberger and Tom Diedrich scored baskets for a one-point spread. Lee Levknecht's late rebound goal gave the winners a 32-28 halftime lead.

With the score 34-32 early in the third segment, the Papermakers coined five straight points, three by Levknecht and two by Suda.

Tom Mortell Paces Zephyrs With 20 Points

GREEN BAY — Premontre, led by the shooting and playmaking of Mike Feller, roared past Menasha's St. Mary here Friday night, 72-50, for its ninth Fox Valley Catholic Conference win and maintained a good shot at second place in the final standings.

The Cadets raced to an 18-3 lead at the quarter and outdistanced the sputtering but game Zephyrs.

Feller scored 22 points to lead the scorers. At least five of his passes led directly to other Cadet baskets. As usual he was a cat on defense, harassing St.

Mary guards and helping hold Joe Reisenstein, the circuit's third leading pointmaker with a 19.2 average, to eight points.

The Cadets hit a season's high shooting percentage of 46, dropping in 29 of 63 tries.

Leading the Zephyrs was junior guard Tom Mortell with 20 points, on nine field goals and two charity tosses. The Menasha five netted 21 baskets on 63 attempts for 31 per cent.

After trading 2-pointers at the start of the third period, the Cadets took a 49-32 lead midway through the eight minutes.

Mortell kept the Zephyrs in the game by netting six field goals in the third quarter. At the end of three quarters, Premontre led, 58-42.

The Cadet attack sputtered a bit near the end of the third period, but got rolling again for the final eight minutes. They pushed in nine straight points to stretch the margin to 62-42.

Marquette '5' And Louisville To Battle

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Louisville Cardinals, seeking a postseason basketball tournament berth, will try to make it two in a row over Marquette at the Milwaukee Arena tonight.

Louisville, holder of a 12-5 season record, defeated Marquette at Louisville earlier in the season, 83-67. The Warriors have a 4-12 record, including six straight losses.

Marquette coach Eddie Hickey said that he will start forward John Stone and Tom Flynn and center Willie Kingley, but that the two guard spots are "up for grabs."

Contenders for the two back court jobs are Rocky Calvelli, Jim Poulsen, Joe Mimitz, Craig Leonard and Bronson Haase.

CLINTONVILLE — Menasha's fourth-ranked Bluejays hung on bitterly at the end Friday night to record their 10th straight Mid-Eastern Conference victory by stopping Clintonville 51-48, despite a 24 per cent shooting performance.

The Bluejays, seemingly rattled by a 4-man Trucker defense at the outset, could connect on only 15 of 63 shots from the floor and on only 21 of 41 free throw attempts during the unusual game. They made just six baskets in a second half, marred by 37 fouls.

Clintonville narrowed the Bluejay lead to one point, 43-42, in the final three minutes. Crucial baskets by Jim Walter and Don Steffin restored the Jay's lead and enabled them to play control ball near the end.

Even then Bill Melzer's basket for the Truckers with 15 seconds left to play made it 50-48.

Joey Archer Beats Mims

Middleweight Has Slim Edge Over Aging Foe on TV

NEW YORK (AP)—Contender Joey Archer hopes middleweight King Joe Giardello was watching the fight on television Friday night when he barely beat aging Holley Mims on an unpopular split 10-round decision at Madison Square Garden.

"I was sluggish and slow and got nailed too often with rights," said the handsome, 25-year-old New Yorker. "Mims is real cute and I learned plenty from him. Maybe if Giardello was looking in he'll give me the title fight."

"Yeah, Joey gave him the invitation all right," said Jimmy Archer, a one-time fighter who manages his brother. "He gave him the invite by sticking his chin out to some of those right hand punches."

They were hoping that the Garden would offer Giardello $10,000 again for a title fight. "The Garden, however, offered Archer, the No. 2 contender, a return fight with unranked Mims in March instead."

"That's okay with me," said the disappointed Mims. "I beat Archer even if I didn't get the decision. But that's an old story with me."

Referee Mark Conn and judge Johnny Dran each scored it 5-4-1 in rounds for Archer, the 4-1 favorite. Judge Tony Castellano had it 5-4-1 for Mims. The Associated Press scorecard had Mims ahead 6-4. A poll of the ringside showed an 8-5-1 edge for Mims.

Ripon Hands Knox Cagers 87-65 Loss

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ripon avenged its lone Midwest Conference defeat by belting Knox 87-65 on the sharpshooting of Gary Mevis and Jack Anderson Friday night in limited Wisconsin basketball action.

Mevis clicked for 27 points and Anderson contributed 23 as Ripon boosted its conference record to 9-1 and its over-all mark to 12-2. Knox, which upset the Redmen in Illinois last week, trailed 41-32 at halftime and was unable to get rolling after the intermission.

In other Midwest games, Lawrence posted its third straight triumph by defeating Monmouth 81-74 and Beloit turned in some sparkling second half shooting to down St. Olaf 75-70.

At Northfield, Minn., Beloit trailed 41-35 at halftime but then hit on 67 per cent of its floor shots after the intermission in defeating St. Olaf. Beloit, which is 5-5 in the conference and 8-5 overall, was paced by Tom Moran with 19 points. Eric Grimsrud tallied 17 for St. Olaf, which is 2-7 in the league and 4-8 against all opposition.

Championship Contest

WLA invades Fox Valley Lutheran's home court next Saturday in a contest that will determine the last champion of the present BLC.

Fox Lutheran broke away from the second tie (3-3) of the game early in the first quarter and never was headed by the Warriors, although the visitors threatened several times.

A 20-foot swisher by Ron Vandertie gave the Foxes the lead, and Wayne Koenig hit a brace of baskets and "Vandy" cashed in once more before the Lake Mills squad could score.

Tight FVL Press

A tight FVL press kept the Warriors confused, and Fox is 5-5 in the conference and 8-5 overall, was paced by Tom Moran with 19 points. Eric Grimsrud tallied 17 for St. Olaf, which is 2-7 in the league and 4-8 against all opposition.

Lead the Foxes to a 25-19 half-time advantage, as Lakeside could score only five buckets, three of them layouts.

The FVL press worked again in the second half, and although Lakeside kept pace with the hosts, Fox Lutheran managed to pad its lead with three points at the quarter mark, 45-36.

A half-court press by the visitors gave FVL a bit of trouble, but after the Foxes solved it, subdued Lakeside Lutheran of they were off and running. It was 56-47 with a few minutes left.

Appleton High School's basketball Terrors threw a blistering fast break and a non-stop man-to-man defense at Sheboygan South here Friday night to bag an 83-41 Fox River Valley Conference victory.

Bouncing back from Tuesday's loss at Oshkosh, the Terrors outclassed the winless Redmen in every phase of the game to score their ninth win in 10 conference starts. They remain in a first-place tie with Manitowoc, a 79-64 conqueror of Sheboygan North.

Three Terrors — including regular guard Chuck McKee — were not in uniform because of illness, but the 11 able-bodied squad members took turns at ripping the cords on offense and harassing the Redmen on defense. All of the Terrors scored at least one field goal, except reserve Mike Bills. AHS players who were withheld from action, besides McKee, were Doug Ehke and John Mumme.

Shawano Deals Ghosts 68-61 Cage Setback

Thwarts Kaukauna Comeback in M-E Contest

SHAWANO — Shawano kept flickering Mid-Eastern Conference title hopes alive Friday night by holding back a stubborn Kaukauna team in the final minute to score a 68-61 triumph. The Indians are now 7-3 in the conference, three games off the pace. Kaukauna is 3-7.

Mike Andrews' pair of free throws in the last 32 seconds for Kaukauna cut the Indian's margin to 64-61. But the Ghosts couldn't score again.

Shawano, playing without Bob Grignon, who was out with a groin injury, broke a 7-7 tie in the first period with five straight points and never trailed again. The biggest Indian margin was 30-19.

Andrews led a Kaukauna comeback before the half which cut the host's margin to three points, 30-27. By halftime Shawano had restored a 36-28 lead.

Each Scores 7

Jim Brown and Andrews each scored seven points for Kaukauna in a third period which saw the visitors outscore the Indians by 18-14. After Shawano had built a 42-31 margin, Kaukauna crept back into contention. Andrews tip-in early in the final period made it 50-42, but the Ghosts could not get closer.

Both teams shot 40 per cent. Shawano made 25 of 62 shots and the Ghosts had 23 of 57. The Indians made 18 of 33 free throws while Kaukauna had 15 of 28.

Vaughn James took up the slack of Grignon's absence by hitting 20 points. Andrews led the Ghosts with 15. Jim Brown had 13 and Gary Weigman and Tim Versteegen each had 11.

Billy Kidd, Jim Heuga Win Medals for U.S. in Slalom

Second, Third Place Finishes
Termed Olympics' Top Upsets

BY TED SMITS
INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—A pair of daring 20-year-old American students, Billy Kidd and Jim Heuga, rocketed to silver and bronze medals today in the slalom for the finest U.S. men's Alpine skiing performance ever in the Winter Olympic Games.

Kidd, of Stowe, Vt., and Heuga, of Tahoe City, Calif., a 145-pound college boy from the University of Colorado, stunned the skiing world with second and third place finishes behind Josef (Pepi) Stiegler of Austria. Olympic observers called it the "biggest upset in Olympic skiing history."

Stiegler maintained Austria's supremacy in the event, unbroken since 1952, by shooting down the two, gate-dotted courses on Birgitzkogel Mountain in 2 minutes, 11.13 seconds.

Kidd was timed in 2:11.27 for the two runs and Heuga, unseeded and an unfavorable 24th in the original starting list, was clocked in 2:11.52.

The United States never before had won a medal in men's Alpine skiing in the Olympic Games, although its women have fared well.

The two medals raised the American cache to six, including two Alpine skiing medals—a silver and bronze—for plucky

Members of the relay team were Mike Gallagher of Killington, Vt.; Mike Elliott of Durango, Colo.; Jim Shea of Lake Placid, N.Y., and John Bower, of Auburn, Maine.

A crowd of 30,000 swarmed the narrow Lizum Valley to see the exciting slalom races, considered among the most dramatic and difficult events in the winter spectacle.

The first course measured 513 yards with a drop of 220 yards and the second 503 yards with the precipitous slope. The temperature was near freezing.

There was a light snow and the course was perilously icy slick.

It was so tough that the heavy advance favorite, Fran- cois Bonlieu of France, winner of the giant slalom, took a tumble on the lower slopes in the first run and had to abandon the race.

Chuck Feries of Houghton, Mich., another U.S. entry, also failed on the opening run. First, he banged into the No. 69 gate. He recovered and continued.

but hit another gate on the way down. This time he had to be helped by his feet by spectators. So he called it quits.

The fourth U.S. competitor, Bud Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., was well back in 2:13.46.

Rallies from Sixth

Kidd, a high school student, made the most fantastic comeback, rallying from sixth place after the first run.

He skied in a low crouch and worked hard with his poles. He made the turns somewhat wide but glided beautifully over the tricky course and finished the second run in 1:00.31.

Heuga, skiing without cap or goggles, shot down the track at breakneck speed, cutting the flags so finely that it appeared his skis shaved the poles.

There was a wild roar from the crowd when Heuga flashed across the finish line, his face wreathed in smiles.

"Oh, boy," he exclaimed, "what a run. Did I make it?"

"You sure did," a teammate replied.

"Feel Great"

American teammates immediately swarmed around him. School Invitational Basketball grabbing him in their arms. The Tournament for small schools girls kissed his apple-red cheeks.

Heuga took Kidd by the shoulder and pointed to the scoreboard. His voice almost was choked with emotion when he John downed Bonduel St. Paul, 32-16, while Green Bay Redeemer handed Hortonville Bethel a 32-21 defeat in the other games in the seeded tourney.

Bonduel and Manawa square off today at 2 p.m., and Hortonville and Menasha meet at 3:10 in the consolation bracket. While Suring and Kaukauna duel events, American men had at 4:20 and Green Bay and Appleton battle at 5:30 in the day. Gretchen Fraser won a championship semi-finals, gold in the ladies slalom in 1948.

All games are being played and Andrea Mead Lawrence captured two golds in the slalom and giant slalom in 1952.

Bock and Neil Weber set the pace, though they played little more than half the game. Bock hit eight of 21 floor shots and added four free throws, for 20 points. He tossed in five of seven second-half shots.

Weber came up with his fourth straight double figure game, as he popped in six of 13 shots and added two free tosses, for 14 points. Just as important, Weber picked off 19 rebounds — his season's high. Bock was second with seven rebounds as AHS swept the outsize Redmen, 52 to 32.

Pat Gendron scored 12 points including 6-for-11 floor shooting for his best offensive showing since the 1963-64 league opener at Green Bay East, when he scored 17 points.

Garry Hietpas played a dazzling floor game and contributed 11 points to the AHS total. "Chip" Taggart drilled in three last-quarter corner shots in three tries, for the Terrors top percentage.

In all AHS-connected 37 times in 80 attempts — for a 46.3 per cent pace. South solved the aggressive Terror defense for only 17 baskets in 70 tries — a 24.3 shooting rate.

Hietpas and Weber sank three goals apiece in the first quarter to pace the Terrors to a 21-12 lead. The Redmen shaved their deficit to seven points, 23-16, only to have AHS reel off 12 straight points for a 35-16 advantage. Bock, Gendron, Bruce Miller and Bob Ness all scored during the spurt.

South came up with one goal, in reply, by Jack Fessler, but AHS hooped nine straight points for a 44-18 halftime edge. The second half was pretty much a carbon copy of the first.

AHS, in winning its seventh straight home game, boosted its over-all record to 12-2.

and gave the hosts a chance. But Menasha controlled the ball until two seconds.

7 Straight Points

The Clints skipped off to a 6-1 lead in the first period, but Steffin led a Menasha onslaught which produced seven straight points. It was back and forth through the rest of the period with Menasha holding a 4-point, 14-10, margin at the end.

The Jays had a 9-point spurt in the second period, spearheaded by Mark Pawlowski and Steffin, which gave them a 25-13 lead, the biggest by either team in the game. Clintonville made it 25-17 by halftime.

Menasha counted only two baskets in a third period controlled by Clintonville. The Trunkers finally tied it at 34 with a pair of free throws by Mark Rosenow. Dick Slattery's basket restored a 36-34 Menasha lead at the quarter.

The Jays snipped any Truckers' upset hopes by hitting five of the first seven points in the half, unofficially, they had 50 in final period and dumping to 41-36 lead. Clintonville closed the gap one more time, but the Jays came through at the end, even after Pawlowski had fouled out.

Clintonville made only 17 of 51 floor shots for 33 per cent. The Trunkers had 14 of 21 free throws. Four Clintonville players fouled out of the game.

Menasha, topped by Steffin's total of 11, had a 41-31 edge margin in rebounds. Pawlowski had 10.

Meizer topped all scorers with 20 points. Steffin's 16 points was high for Menasha, although Pawlowski had 13, nine from the charity stripe.

Stockbridge '5' Wins, 57-44

Extends Victory Streak by Avenging 10-Point Loss

STOCKBRIDGE — The Stockbridge High School Indians won their fifth straight basketball game Friday night, and avenged an earlier 10-point loss, in the process, as they whipped Howards Grove, 57-44, in a Kettle Moraine Conference game.

A red hot first half enabled the Indians to take a commanding, 33-14, lead, but they ran into trouble in the third segment as the Grovers pulled to within two points (at 40-32) late in the period.

The winners played without their standout rebounder Tom Schoen during that period as Howards Grove took control of the boards and outscored Stockbridge, 20-7 to narrow the gap.

Gerry Mayer then hit two crucial buckets and added a free throw to regain a safe 45-38 lead, for the Indians. They were never in trouble thereafter, scoring 17 points in the closing quarter, while limiting the Grovers to 10.

The Mayer boys, Gerry and Bob, were the big guns for Don Gosz' charges, coining 28 and 14 points, respectively. Dale Milbrath led the losers with 12.

AVS '5' Wins Tourney Game In Menasha

MENASHA — Appleton Vocational School and St. Joseph's Athletic Association of Two Rivers posted victories in the opening round of the St. John Church-Industrial Tournament here Friday night.

AVS crushed Banta's of Menasha, 84-56, as Bill Gammey scored 25 points, and Gary Doll-evoet chipped in with 21. Jim Rueckel took game honors for Banta with 26.

St. Joseph downed Elm Tree of Appleton, 69-47, in the other contest, as William Tomchek paced the Two Rivers squad with 22. Larry Gauger, Al Harke and Bert Tardiff each collected 10 for the losers.

Trophy Supply, Leath's Meet For Cage Crown

Leath's Furniture and Appleton Trophy Supply will meet Tuesday in a playoff game for the YMCA High School Boys Basketball League championship.

Leath's won the first round in the league and Trophy Supply copped the second round title by downing Dale Realty, 74-63 for a perfect 5-0 record.

In the other game played Mueller Lumber defeated Retson's, 78-67 and Pond's Sports scored a forfeit win over Leath's.

Trophy Supply was led by Tom Wachendock with 23 points and Tom Souther with 22 in the win over Dale. The losers were paced by Jim Fime with 18. Craig Nissen scored 23 and Bill Jensen had 22 for Mueller's, while Mike Sass paced Retson's with 33 markers.

UCLA '5' Wins 18th Straight, Tips Cal, 87-67

Bruins Remain Only Undeclared Major College Team in U. S.

You can't toot that horn, but it doesn't mean a thing to the all-conquering UCLA basketball team.

The nation's only undeclared major college team and top-ranked in The Associated Press, the Bruins made it 18 in a row Friday night by walloping California 87-67.

Fanatic Cal rooters packed Harmon Gymnasium at Berkeley, Calif. to its capacity of 7,200, but their screeching and the blaring of student bands didn't scare UCLA as it has other teams in the past.

The playmaking of Walt Hazzard and his 21 points plus the shooting of Gail Goodrich, good for 26 points, gave UCLA a 40-30 halftime lead and the Bruins ripped the game open.

With their customary second-half burst. They now are 7-0 in Big Six competition to Cal's 5-2. Davidson, No. 5, walloped Georgia Southern 95-76 and Van-derbilt, No. 2, trounced Tulane 96-64 in the only other games involving teams in the AP Top 10.

Ten. It was Tulane's 17th consecutive setback and left the Greenies still the only winless team.

Kappell Stays Undeclared In Kaukauna

KAUKAUNA — A strong second half enabled Kappell's Bar to remain undefeated in the City Basketball League Wednesday night as the leaders took a 57-48 win from Thilco.

Thilco led, 22-17, at halftime, but was outscored, 40-26, in the second half. Pat Casperson led the winners with 27 points, and Mike Robe added 16. The losers were led by Bob Wahlers with 13, and Paul Gertz with 12.

Powers' Pub remained a game behind the leaders by downing Shamrock Bar, 62-47. Gary Ver-poli, the Bruins made it 18 in a row Friday night by walloping California 87-67.

Johnson Asks Allied Steps Against Cuba

national organizations that we will consider convenient for our claim," said Dorticco.

Johnson ordered the Defense Department to make Guantanamo self-sufficient.

With this order, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, the statement said, issued instructions to:

"Assure the base control over its own water supply both by conversion of sea water to fresh water and by the transportation of water by ship.

"Reduce the employment of Cuban personnel who are subject to the control of the Cuban government and whose wages contribute to its foreign exchange."

New Instruction

Asked if the Cuban water would be used if Castro turned it back on, a Defense Department spokesman said, "No. The new instruction means that we do not anticipate having to use water again from that source."

Administration officials said they would be given the choice of making their homes on the base or in some cases of spending their dollars there for such things as food and drugs instead of making their purchases in the Cuban economy.

Those who do not cooperate in these measures to keep the dollars away from the Castro government will be dismissed, Castro in closing the pipeline to the base.

Despite initial anger at Castro's move the President's advisers now consider it a harassment rather than a serious

Parochial School Aid Gets Limited Support From Protestant Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Federal aid to parochial schools, opposed by Protestant leaders for decades, has received support on a limited basis from delegates representing more than 40 million church members outside Roman Catholicism.

The National Council of Churches' conference on church and state, attended by representatives of 24 Protestant and Orthodox churches in the United States, went on record Friday in favor of a limited federal aid program for church-aided schools.

The actions ordered by Johnson will cost Castro more than $5 million a year when they are fully carried out.

The Guantanamo base employs about 3,000 Cubans, of whom 500 live on the base. The earnings of the 2,500 who live in Cuba proper have put more than $5 million a year into the Cuban economy, giving Castro much needed dollars for use in international trade.

ate more jobs and bring in additional tax revenue.

withholding to reflect the cuts in income tax rates shall begin one week after the bill is signed.

The Senate completed its consideration of the bill in seven days, four of them involving night sessions. On the final vote, 56 Democrats and 21 Republicans supported the bill. Opposed were 11 Democrats, including eight Southerners, and 10 Republicans.

The House and Senate versions are identical in their rate reductions for the nation's 80 million individual and 550,000 corporate taxpayers. Thus there is no question of their eventual adoption.

The Senate bill, however, would immediately cut the 18 per cent withholding rate to 14 per cent instead of to 15 per cent as voted by the House.

Would Cause Difficulty

House managers have indicated that they will go along with the lower rate, which was asked by Johnson, but perhaps insisting that companies be given longer than one week to put it into effect in issuing pay checks.

Many firms have said it is impossible to do it in a week. When the 14 per cent rate takes effect, it will pour an additional $800 million a month into the economy. The administration is counting on this to stimulate economic growth, create and Britain have rejected this condition because they regard it as an opening for Soviet interference on Cyprus.

U.N. Peacekeeping

In the past, the Russians have opposed U.N. peacekeeping operations in the Middle East and the Congo.

In London, the British Foreign Office described Khrushchev's note as a "gross misrepresentation of the situation."

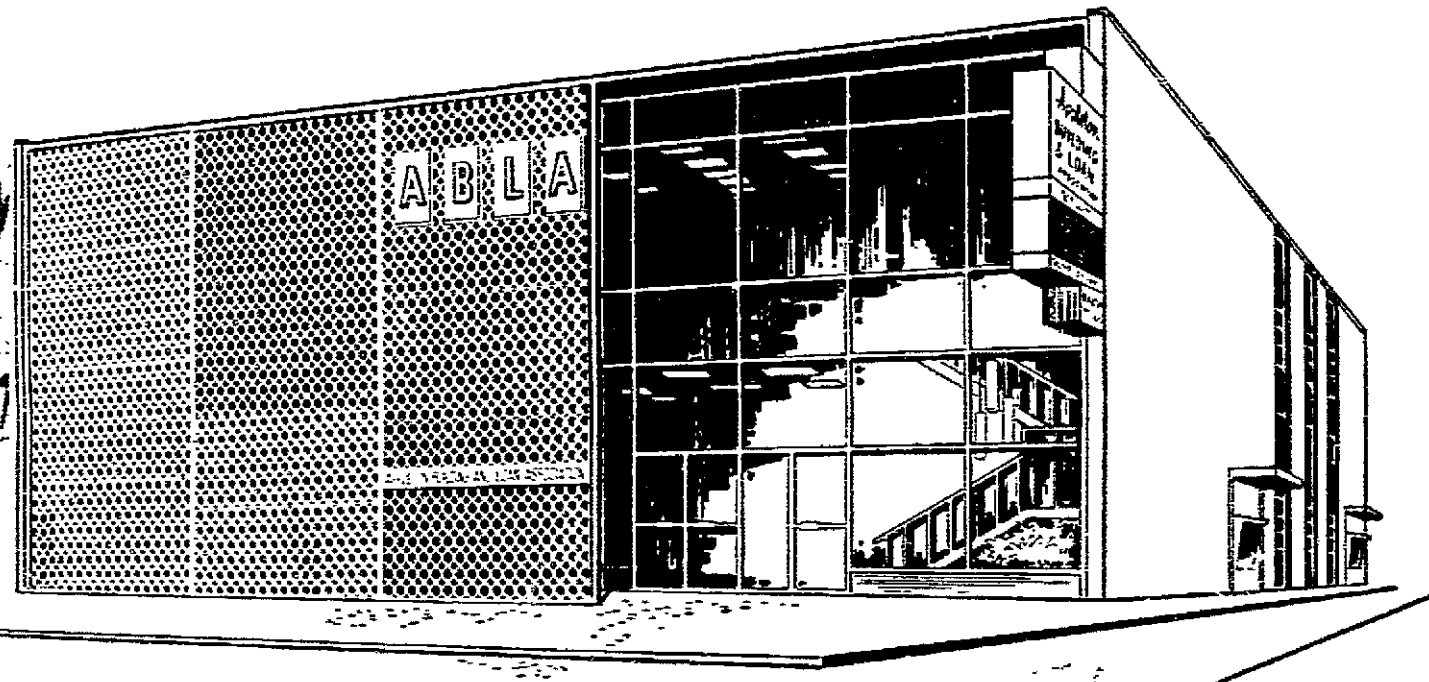

"It is impossible to believe it is intended to be a constructive contribution towards solving the Cyprus problem," the Foreign Office statement said.

A deadlock continued at the London peace conference on Cyprus. The Turkish Cypriot delegation flew home after describing the situation as very grim.

The Greek Cypriot representatives also were scheduled to return to Nicosia.

A new outbreak of shooting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots occurred Friday in the mountains overlooking the port of Kyrenia, on the north coast of Cyprus 25 miles from Nicosia.

Dollars Come In . . . But Only Temporarily!

A special guest arrives this week at the Appleton Building and Loan Association. It will probably appear from a lady's purse or possibly from a child's hand . . . pass over the teller's plate . . . and into our safe, temporarily.

Within a day or two, it's going to work . . . to buy a new home for a happy family, to give a job to a construction worker, to start a whole spree of appliance, automobile and furniture sales. And, of course, it will earn 4% per annum, payable semi-annually for the saver who brought it.

For 45 years, similar dollars have been joining the Appleton Building and Loan Association family. In 1961 ABLA moved into its new building. Savers and home buyers heard about the new efficient quarters and ABLA's traditional hospitality . . . visited, liked what they saw . . . and did business with us. If you are not acquainted with our many services, we invite you to visit us soon.
